THE NATIONAL GUARD.

The mustering of the National Guard of the Republic next month has naturally drawn the attention of all to one of the most eloquent signs of the time. At no former period in the chequered history of this young country could such a mobilization of troops take place without fearing the symptoms of some political rising or lurking movements in international relations. The massing of the National Guards of this city and the provinces at present bears no political hue, and both friends and foes to the Government applaud a measure which is calculated to convince Argentines and neighbors of the strength of the country and to raise a martial spirit which may yet produce serious results.

It is a well-known fact that Argentines for many years have underrated the military strength of the nation. The revolutions of the last 18 years were carried out on this erroneous foundation and in the belief that this province was a master of all others, and that the National Government could only rely on its military bulwark, the army. The years 1874 and 1880 dispelled the illusion in a violent manner, and the people began to perceive the terrible weapon that the National Government wielded by surmounting the National Guards.

The great progress of the country can be even traced to the powerful advance of this military body. The Paraguayan War and its deficient organization are still fresh to the minds of all; at that infantile period—that Trojan war in the wilds of South America, this country by a gigantic effort succeeded in gathering 25,000 men. In 1874 over 50,000 men were mobilized in three weeks; in 1880 close on 70,000 men rose to arms to defend the nation; to-day 100,000 young men can be summoned in a week by the War Office with a little organization. These figures and the rapidity of evolutions witnessed in late years shew the gigantic advance.

The National army, we all know, is a very good police service on the frontiers, and a first-rate basis for the National Guards, but viewed in an optimist light it will be acknowledged to be after all a mere secondary weapon in the hands of the Government—it the sole anchor of the nation. The great strength of the nation is the National Guard; it is he who has suppressed every revolution, and he is and must be the "bona-fide" guarantee of the defence of the nation. Both Argentines and foreigners acknowledge the fact, as there is no denying the palpable evidence of late events.

In view of such facts the attention of the National Government has been eventually drawn to the immense importance of drilling this large body of men, of teaching same the use of the national firearm, and of placing it on a Prussian footing of efficiency. The aim of the Government is to connect all the provinces by a net of railways with steel bands, which will allow of the mobilization of the guards in a fortnight. One hundred thousand able-bodied and young men can be immediately called out for active service, whilst over 150,000 men can form the reserve. The men in towns and cities are enrolled in the infantry regiments, the camp men of the pampa in the cavalry. Uniforms and weapons must be provided for all; the remingtons are in the Arsenal. We want the uniform and organization.

The organization of the National Guard will open the eyes of the neighboring States. Chile, Brazil and Uruguay will certainly look on with interest when 100,000 men are being drilled every holiday and Sunday between 6 a.m. and mid-day. A Frederick the Great would set the Plate on fire and militarization accompanied by a perennial war would be the finale of the organization of the body should the reins of Government fall into ambitious hands.

In the military sense of the word this country may be considered at the head of South America, whatever defects it may have in naval respects. It remains to be seen if the brigading and manœuvring of 100,000 men will foster any bellicose spirit in the nation, which at present happily does not exist. The sight of large bodies of troops and military training are likely not only to produce a consciousness of military power not to be disregarded, but may also infuse into the policy of the Government a spirit of an aggressive nature, which it would be better to avoid. The predilection with which all the papers back up the National drilling is ominous, and the confidence with which the Government orders it points to the changed political status of the country, and to the sound foundations of public opinion on which the Government rests. The Minister of War is quite right in this drilling policy, since it meets an active support from all quarters and especially from the very men who are summoned to rise at 5 a.m. before breakfast to take arms and march the goose-step.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT.

On Monday evening a sad and fatal accident occurred on the Northern Railway between the Rivadavia and Olivos stations, where a down train caught a private carriage that was crossing the line at the moment, smashed it to bits, killed one of the ladies in it, and seriously injured all the other occupants of the vehicle. The full details of this lamentable affair are as follow:—Miss Elena Esperon, daughter of Dn. Eustaquio Esperon of Calle Esmeralda, ordered her carriage on Tuesday about 4 o'clock, to pay a visit to the Laprida family at Los Olivos. To keep her company during the drive, she invited her friend Miss Gonzalez, to accompany her, and they took with them Carlos Esperon, a child of 11, and Ernestina, Gonzalez about the same age, their brother and sister respectively. The carriage was a light 'Americana,' and the horses were in very high form. The coachman, a Spaniard, and old servant of the family, had them well in hand, however, till they reached the railway crossing at Olivos, quite near the Laprida and Llavallol quintas, which are next each other. There are different versions as to what then occurred: One is that the coachman, seeing the train approaching, was about to pull up till it had passed, when Miss Esperon told him to drive on, as he had plenty of time to pass before the train came up. Another is that the horses ran away on approaching the quinta. Be this as it may, the cow-catcher of the locomotive caught the carriage full in the side, smashing it to atoms, and scattering the unfortunate occupants in all directions. The engive-driver could not stop the train in less than fifty yards, the wreck of the carriage being torn along with it; the horses had dashed off to the quinta with the front wheels of the vehicle.

When the horrified passengers jumped from the train to render assistance, a terrible sight met their eyes. Miss Gonzalez, the two children and the coachman lay moaning in the ditch beside the line, bleeding, scratched and injured in various ways, the coachman having had all his teeth smashed, but none of the wounds were fatal. Poor Miss Esperon was all but dead when released from the cow-catcher; her legs and feet were smashed, and also her spine, as, when those around her tried to place her in a sitting position, she fell forward and backward, as if broken in two. The poor girl only lived for a minute after being released from the engine.

Everybody shouted for a doctor, but there was no doctor in the train. Dr. Diaz was the first to arrive, from San Isidro, on hearing of the accident.

The tragedy was witnessed by Mr. Jaime Llavallol and family and the mother and other members of the dead girl's family. The latter were seen running frantically, screaming piteously, towards the train as it was brought to a stand. Such was their agitation that the poor ladies fell several times before they reached the scene of horror, only in time to fall fainting beside the mangled corpse of the poor girl who, we believe, was engaged to be married shortly.

The corpse was removed to Mr. Esperon's residence in Calle Esmeralda, at two o'clock yesterday morning, and when the bereaved father saw it, he fell fainting to the ground.

We offer the distinguished families who are plunged into mourning by this sad catastrophe our deepest sympathy.

NOTES OF A TRIP TO THE 17TH AND 18TH SECTIONS.

The Estancia "El Aguaca," situated in the 17th Section close to the line of the 18th, belonging to Dr. Don Emilio Cabral, has the honour of being at present (with the exception of those in the far south) the estancia farthest to the west in the province of Buenos Aires. Beyond it the traveller must find his own food and drink, the Government apparently not considering it part of their functions to do anything to assist him, and a spade to dig for water is an indispensable article to carry with him. The "Aguaca," therefore, forms a real haven for travellers, and more than one wanderer has had occasion to appreciate the unlimited hospitality extended to him there by the courteous manager, Don Cerilo Chaves, an hospitality which does not end at the "palenque," but, with Persian politeness, the guests are accompanied on their way until left where they can obtain an abundance of water. Dr. Cabral has weekly returns sent from "El Aguaca" of thermometer, barometer and rain-fall. An array of meteorological instruments is the first thing you notice on entering the house. In a short time these returns will be valuable, up to now nothing of the kind having been kept in that part of the country. The side of "El Aguaca," facing the N.W., is being left open for the present—the other three sides are fenced.

Four leagues inside of "El Aguaca," and a little to the north (the house being about a league from the 35th parallel) is the estancia of Dn. Manuel Romero. As at "El Aguaca" everything has a substantial air about this establishment, and we saw fat cattle here.

Besides these two establishments, the only other establishment in the whole of the 17th or 18th Section is a place belonging to a Schleswig-Holsteiner, Mr. Adolfo Renmann. He has a flock of sheep, a good point of cows, corrals, potreros, &c., all made out of his work, fencing-in camps. When we passed he was working at Dr. Romero's fence, which, when finished, will mean a few more cows and sheep added to his flock. This is an instance of what an industrious man can do in this country. The estancias which can show his work are "Tres Bonetas," in Lincoln, "Espartillares," "Cruz de Guerra," "Cañada" and "El Carmen" in 9 de Julio. He said he would be glad to get some cows on shares, all expenses for his account, and when we looked at his sleek little "rodeo," we could not help thinking that any one who wished to go into the cow business, on a small scale, would hardly find a more economical way of doing it. He is putting in 4,000 trees, and says he would put in 40,000, if he had any security that he would not be turned out when the Government sells the land. He has been in North America, and says it cannot compare with Buenos Aires for a working man; nor, indeed, any other part of the world that he has seen. There is no place in which the working man receives so little competition from the natives, who, he says, are all "either poets or gentlemen," a remark which we thought unnecessarily rough on the former. He is expecting his "fiancée" from Altona, and probably she will be the first arrival from that town on the 17th Section. He has strongly recommended his friends in Europe to send out capital here for investment, but he says people in Schleswig-Holstein, as a rule, are "very lazy" to send money to this country. A luxury we did not expect to find in that part of the country was a shower-bath. It is the first thing you are invited to on arrival at Mr. R.'s.

The Government "mojones" in these Sections are miserable things, and it is extremely difficult to find them without a "vaqueano." In the National territory you can see the "mojones" a league off, and require no "vaqueanos" At "Timote" there is a lake which is salt at the sides and fresh in the middle. Sick people from Lincoln and Lavalle go to bathe in it, having great faith in the waters. One poor woman had dragged herself out there and died when within a league of the lake.

We met a Scotchman who was looking at camps. He said he had been from "Guamini" to "Media Luna," and that "Las Tunas" was the place that most took his fancy. He had taken land there on some instalment system, and he said there were enough of fox-skins and ostriches on the land to pay the instalments for some years at least. He was an enthusiast regarding the advantages of possessing land, and said he would rather own a desert than rent a paradise.

The time was fast coming when the difference between "somebodies" and "nobodies" in the world will be the having or not having land. The man able to point to his name on the map will require no further charter to take him where he likes, whereas the man unable to name his domain will be a suspected vagabond, who will have to carry about with him a cargo of credentials to establish his identity. The gates of palaces will be thrown open to the one, entrance to hovels denied to the other.

The system which some people have when they are offered land of sitting down to calculate how much per cent. it will give them, is a miserable paltry system, and gives you the measure of the man at once. There is a sort of "good-will" attaching to land which such people fail to see. So much for the land, because it brings in so much per cent., and so much for the title of nobility which it conveys, is already the calculation in many parts of the world, and shortly will be in all parts. The day least expected in Buenos Aires a law might come out like a bomb, prohibiting further transfer of land to foreigners. This province has now so little land left that such a measure would do it no harm, and it is only the unparalleled liberality of the laws to foreigners, combined with some thoughtlessness on the part of lawmakers, which puts off its being done.

What strikes one going west is how soon you reach the end of the populated districts, and this notwithstanding the great spread in that direction for the last two years. Leaving B. Aires in the morning you arrive (half by rail and half by diligence) that night, and next morning with a few gallops, you can arrive for breakfast at the last house there is, viz., Dr. Cabral's. All beyond is an unoccupied though fertile desert.

SHEEPSKINS.

III.

Mr Grumble made some objections to my defending the interests of "pulperos," I shall answer the same verbally as soon as the telephone wires reach the Arroyo Grande. In this way your readers will not be tired by personalities.

Meanwhile, my letters have created a general cry for the abolition of the sheepskins' ears revision, in the way it is done now, in town and camp, and the papers are full of leaders and letters on the subject.

I have not heard a single voice in favour of keeping the "ordenanza" in force, but some people have not made up their minds, as yet, as to the actual value of this measure for the interest of our backbone, the sheepfarming industry, and it is for those gentlemen that I come forward to make clear in a few words, (after much ink has been used on the subject in five different papers,) what the revising means in reality.

The reality is, that not a single thief has been caught by the authorities on account of this measure, but nobody will believe what a number of innocent victims, rich and poor, have lost by it, smaller and larger sums of money.

Since the present system was adopted, it seems the 'alcaldes' and "jueces de paz" do not any longer take the trouble to revise the 'señales' or look if there was sufficient proof as regards the skins belonging to the party who asked for the guia or not, because the parting out of the skins without ears, fiscalizing them and collecting the corresponding "multa," without asking why they had no ears and whether they had been stolen or not, was much easier.

Here in town the same game went on, and not only those highly respectable gentlemen named by the Nacion, but also the Duggans, the Caseys and many others who are just as well worth mentioning, were fined on several occasions.

(If they had caught me, I should have proved to them that the sheep had been born without ears. This would have been more likely than that the above named gentlemen had stolen the skins)

I do not speak about the fact that no evidence has ever been published as to where the money goes to, and as I am a foreigner, I think that one should not put in his nose too deep where it does not belong to.

We certainly have much more rights here under the very liberal laws of this Republic of liberal people than an Argentine would have in Europe, and we should never forget this and not have the bad taste to make public demonstrations when a Garibaldi or a Gambetta dies, or ask for the statue of a Mazzini to be erected in a public square, where only those of a Rivadavia, San Martin, Beigrano, Admiral Brown, &c., who have served this country, have a right to be.

Nevertheless, if a public functionary commits abuses, it is a foreigner's right and even duty to make this known, and on this account I shall relate you an incident which happened several years ago (under the former administration) in one of the north-western partidos, but which come only to my ears a few days ago.

A poor man, who had some sheepskins of his own without ears, got a certificate from his 'alcalde' that he was the right owner, and then galloped with the same eleven leagues to get a guia from the 'juez de paz.'

After having to wait about a day or two to get an audience of this high functionary, the Juez took the skins without ears from him and fined him besides, 50 $\frac{m}{n}$ for each skin (!) i. e. the man lost at least the threefold amount of what actually belonged to him.

Whether the law is defective, or its interpretation was wrong in this case, was of little importance to the poor man, but I think this example will convince even people who have believed until to-day in the usefulness of the measure, of the fact: "That the fiscalizing of skins without ears ought to be abandoned."

Don't you think so Mr Grumble?

INTERESTING TO ESTANCIEROS

Once before we transcribed from the Anales an article published by Mr. A. Jones, an estanciero of Brandzen, in which he pointed out the necessity of dividing camp into "potreros," which after long years of experience, he found had given him splendid results. Mr. Jones again writes to that periodical, and his subject this time is just as important as that before, viz: A method of keeping a permanent supply of water in the "arroyos" that run through the camps, and which so frequently run dry in summer, the season when the cattle most require it. Knowing well the importance this subject possesses for estancieros, we reproduce it in full. It is as follows:—

Brandzen, Feb. 10.

Sr. Director of the Anales.

Some articles relating to the care of sheep have been published in the Prensa, in which amongst many other things, sheepfarmers are advised to do away with enclosing their flocks in "corrales," and other means of this description that they adopt for the welfare of their flocks.

Seeing that these ideas are in accordance with the system that I have adopted with my flocks, viz, of rearing them in open camp, well wired and divided into "potreros," I have decided to inform of the results obtained for many years, respecting the weight of the wool, increase of animals, and the improvement of my camps.

Here we have felt the want of rain for more than a month and a half, some days being frightfully warm; the 'arroyos' and lagunas are all dry, yet my flocks have had a plentiful supply of water all the time, nor is there any scarcity of green pasturage. I have a small "arroyo" that runs through the greater part of the "potreros" where my flocks graze; this rivulet I have cleaned and canalized every year, during the summer, when it runs dry. In this manner I have completely changed it into a permanent "arroyo" that supplies plenty of good water for all my stock, being much better than "jagüel" water, which is always unhealthy for flocks. During very hot days I have seen a large number of sheep drop dead after drinking from the cold water of the "jagüel."

Samborombon, which is an important "arroyo," being fed from the neighbouring "arroyos" and "cañadones" is, however, the first to run dry, due to the "fango" at its bottom, which no person thinks of cleaning.

It has always been said, that "arroyos" where the otter abounds very seldom run dry, which is a fact to a certain extent, as they clean the river and keep it tolerably clear of "fango." It is my opinion that most of the "arroyos" would have permanent water if the owners of land through which they run would clean and canalize them in the places where the bed of the river rises. In most cases estancieros are deprived of their permanent water by neighboring cattle, coming to drink at their watering places; but this evil has disappeared due to fencing of lands. It is now 7 or 8 years since I have drawn water from the "jagüel" for my stock on either of my establishments here. This is solely due to the constantly cleaning and deepening of the 'arroyo' and the opening of a passage to the rain waters, the current of which cleans its bed.

In an area of 25 squares, divided into 5 small "potreros," I have over 1000 sheep that have not stirred out of it for the past 4 months day nor night, and are, without any artificial feeding, in a very fat condition. This is an evident proof of how much the land improves with the manure which the animals deposit on it when they are left there night and day; when they are enclosed in a corral the manure which they deposit in it is useless and very prejudicial to the animals.

The remainder of the camp I have divided into 6 "potreros" more extensive than the above, each one covering an area of about 100 squares. On each of these I have flocks of from 1,200 to 1,500 in splendid condition. Some of these flocks have given on an average 8 lbs. of wool per head, without shearing "borregas." The wool this year in the market fetched 105 m/c.

I have, besides, 300 cows grazing on the same camp. I graze them in the following manner: I drive them into potrero No. 4, and leave them there for a week, then into No. 3, and so on until they arrive at No. 1, by which time it has had a rest of 5 weeks. In this manner the cows follow on eating the pasture that has grown too high for the sheep.

During the calving the cows remain in the "potrero de la caponada" which is of the six, the largest, and when finished are driven successively into each potrero in the order above mentioned, without interfering in the least with the flocks.

The soft gramillas which the sheep so much like have disappeared completely from this district, and from some of the neighbouring ones, no doubt owing to the poverty of the soil occasioned by years of overstocking.

For 30 years I have known camps in this district which have lost their former title of prime land owing to the invasion of useless grasses. The burrowers have also done the camps immense harm, and the owners of same have done nothing to remove them. In fact these camps have become the sacred haunt of "biscachos" armadillos, skunks, foxes, etc, the latter it is well-known are exclusively carnivorous, and feed principally on lambs. I know one of these haunts about a league from my house where I have counted as many as 12 foxes in two burrows. These burrows are generally a few squares distant from the estanciero's house, you may then form a calculation of the number of lambs that are annually eaten by the foxes.

The next extraordinary feature of the case is, that many complain of the defective increase of their flocks when the remedy is in their hands—viz, the destruction of all these night visitors.

I am, etc.

Andres Jones.

THE STORAGE OF ELECTRICITY

MR. BRUSH'S NEW INVENTION.

English and American papers lately to hand contain interesting accounts of Mr. Brush's new and important device for storing the electric current, which was brought before the public for the first time at an exhibition in New York on the 19th December last.

We extract the following from the New York Times of Dec. 20th:—

"Prominent electricians, scientific men and capitalists from all parts of the country, and even from Europe, were present to inspect this remarkable invention and witness its operation. Its success was demonstrated beyond all doubt, the general opinion being that Mr. Brush had definitely and successfully solved the problem of storing or "bottling up" electricity, to use a common expression, in a thoroughly practical and economical manner.

"At last night's exhibition twenty-seven lights were shown in operation. They were fed from a storage battery 8 feet long, 15 inches wide, and 16 inches high, and they burned without a flicker or any diminution of light whatever. Besides these lights there was exhibited an electro-motor of one-horse power, which supplied power to a blower of ordinary form, and which was moved by the current from the secondary battery. The visitors watched the lights and motor in operation for several hours, and all expressed their gratification at the success of the test in its details as well as in its general application.

"The batteries made are of four kinds, the first having a capacity of from 5 to 8 lights, the plates being 8 inches by 8; the second for from 10 to 15 lights, with plates 8 by 16 in.; the third for from 20 to 30 lights, with double plates 8 by 16 inches, and the fourth for from 40 to 60 lights, with plates 16 by 16 inches.

"Mr. Brush says that his battery, once made, is practically indestructible, and needs no care or attention beyond the occasional addition of a little water to replace that taken up by evaporation."

Mr. W. R. Cassels, the representative of the Brush Company and the concessionaire for the River Plate, returned from the United States per Araucania. He has given us a further description of this invention, which he saw in operation even before it was exhibited publicly.

The Brush Company have erected a very large factory in addition to their present mammoth works, which is to be devoted entirely to the manufacture of the accumulators, or storage batteries, which, we understand, is the correct term.

The progress of the Brush Light in the United States is evidently far beyond what is generally imagined. Every city of importance in that country uses the Light to some extent. Twenty-eight towns now employ no other means for public illumination, and this number is increasing every month. In New York alone there are upwards of 1,500 arc lamps.

The new device for storing electricity is not intended to be employed for furnishing the arc lamps for street or exterior illumination. Its principal use will be for supplying electricity to private residences. A long, narrow box placed in the cellar with wires running to small incandescent lamps, placed wherever desired throughout the house, will complete the fixtures. The same Dynamo machines and main wires that are now used for city lamps will be used to change the accumulators, which will automatically shunt themselves off from the main when charged, and electricity can be drawn off as required from them, just as water is from a reservoir.

THE 100 LEAGUES AT LORETO.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 19th.

Mr. Michael Muldoon,

Carmen de Areco,

My dear Mick,

In yours of the 15th inst. you ask me so many questions about the Loreto land that it will take a long letter to give the information asked for. However, I will do my best to satisfy you on all points. Your first question is about the soil. This is easily answered, as you know the partidos of Chacabuco and Rojas, and the soil about Loreto is almost the same, rich, deep, black earth capable of growing anything.

What kind of grass? You tell me that you have seen 'pasto fuerte' camps in Pergamino, Rojas, Nueve de Julio and Lincoln, that as a rule they are unfit for sheep. Possibly you are right, and I won't argue the point, but let me assure you that the coarse camps mentioned cannot compare with Loreto.

Here you have sprinkled through the hard Pampa grass, 'cebadilla,' 'alfilerillo, various classes of 'gramilla,' vetches, wild peas, all excellent for sheep, as is proved by the splendid condition of the flocks that have been driven there.

What do I think is the land worth? I believe that the intrinsic value of the land is about 500,000$ $\frac{m}{n}$ per league, (don't laugh Mick) unless camp is too high in other districts. Inferior land to Loreto costs in Junin, Lincoln, Nueve de Julio, etc., from 400,000 to 800,000$ $\frac{m}{n}$. Why is it worth more there? For the simple reason that these districts are well known and Loreto is not. I assure you that it is the only reason, and will try to prove it. Land in Lincoln, 60 leagues from B. Aires sells at say, 500,000$ $\frac{m}{n}$ per league, and costs to fence 150,000$ $\frac{m}{n}$. To place an arroba of wool in the market costs 10$ $\frac{m}{n}$. Now Loreto is 70 leagues from Buenos Aires and only 25 from Rosario, the best port in the Republic; a league of land can be fenced for 100,000$ $\frac{m}{n}$ (same fence as Lincoln one;) it will carry more stock than the Lincoln league; an arroba of wool can be delivered in the market for 4$ $\frac{m}{n}$, and in the course of time it will be as good as the Cano or Dorrego estancias in Rojas which would find purchasers to-day at 2,000,000$ $\frac{m}{n}$ per league. In your letter you state that you think the Junin, Lincoln and 9 de Julio lands not too dear, but if so why, in the name of thunder, do you say that the Loreto camp cannot be worth more than 150,000$ $\frac{m}{n}$? Give your reasons, is it soil, climate, grasses? What is it? Prove it Mick and I'll forgive you. You pay 20,000$ for one puesto on the land you occupy, and will go on paying it until all your money is gone, except somebody kicks you out of it in time. I remember when that land was sold for 25,000$ $\frac{m}{n}$ per league, and it was considered then as dear at that price as it is now at 2,500,000$ $\frac{m}{n}$. Whyin this great rise in value, the sheep and cattle have not advanced in proportion? Carmen de Areco was considered then to be as far from Buenos Aires as Loreto is now, and so it was, being two days' journey by diligencia. If you and I live twenty years, we shall see Loreto land sell at the Carmen de Areco prices of to-day, viz, 2,500,000$ $\frac{m}{n}$ per league, and there will be the same senseless howl as to-day about its being too dear.

How much land would I advise you to purchase at the auction?

Buy half a league, and you will be able to pay for it without difficulty. You have 2,500 sheep and $85,000, and that is quite sufficient. As the whole 100 leagues will be sold without reserve, in one day, prices will be low, and most likely you will get your half-league for $100,000, payable in five years—$25,000 the first year, and then $18,750 per annum for four years, plus interest at 7 per cent. After making the first payment you will have $10,000 to defray expenses in "poblaring," etc. Exchange 1,000 sheep for horned cattle, and remain with a flock of 1,500 sheep, which, having half a league of camp to feed on, will certainly produce $30,000 per annum in wool, increase, etc. At the end of five years you will find yourself owner of 800 squares of excellent land, two flocks of sheep and 500 head of cattle. In five years you can have your land all refined. The experiment of land refining having succeeded at Venado Tuerto, it is now only a question of how much it costs. As your two sons can mind the sheep and cattle, you can dedicate all your time to the plough. A native ploughman will work all the year round at $300 per month, and between you 100 cuadras can be laid under fine grasses. After two or three years, when prosperity smiles around you, add two more ploughmen, and by the time the last payment has to be made you will be owner of an estate worth $800,000, as it will be able to support six flocks of sheep and 500 cows.

Which is the nearest town?

At present the nearest town is Melincué, but this year the town of Venado Tuerto will be commenced and Juez de Paz and Municipality named. I have promised to build a chapel and school, and they will be erected most likely before the end of this year.

What route will you take to get to Loreto? A stage coach runs to Hinojo (Venado Tuerto) twice a week, and Mr. Turner the proprietor of Hinojo will supply you with horses. The line of the Loreto camps is only two leagues from Hinojo, extending North and South from that point.

Will your family be safe? There is not a quieter or safer district in the Republic; crime is unknown, as all the settlers are industrious, hard-working people, and besides, most of the intending purchasers will fence their camp at once.

What will it cost to build a house? A very good house can be built and sods cut into the shape of brick, only much thicker. If you plaster the wall, your house will answer your purposes as well as a brick one. I have seen many such houses out there, and must say that they are much better than most of the puestos in the Carmen de Areco. Do you think the rent of inside land will come down? I believe that it will rise every year for various reasons: 1st—The increase of population. 2nd—The steady onward march of agriculture, which is driving the sheep into a corner. 3rd—The wish of capitalists to possess an estate near Buenos Aires where they can take their families in summer, and which will always yield a steady income. 4th—Because rents are not high yet. Sheepfarming cannot continue in its present primitive, slovenly state. How can a man attend to 3000 sheep in one flock? Before many years you will see no flock of sheep over 500. Those 500 sheep will feed on 25 squares (of which 4 will be under alfalfa) of land. Each sheep will yield 8 lbs. of wool and will be fat all the year round. All the lambs will be saved, and scab will be unheard of. To do all this a man must be owner of the soil, or a servant to him. The arrendatario or tenant is doomed; in this as in all other countries, he will come to grief, and will go in for generation after generation, putting money into the landlord's pocket, grumbling, muttering and cursing everything and everybody except himself, the only man to blame. Become the owner of the land you live on, Mick, buy 10,000 acres if you can, if not, take 500, take 100, take one acre, but be the owner of your cottage. Fortunes have been made here and in other countries by poor men who bought land in outlying districts and waited until civilization overtook them; the railway, the town, the church, the school is sure to follow in a country like this. If you wait to purchase in a district where the land is refined, the Railway station near, the church within a league from you, the land will become so dear that your little capital may not reach to buy a cottage garden. You say that you would like to purchase a league of land at Loreto that ½ a league is a small piece.

Half a league of land is nearly 3,400 acres, which you can buy now for ever and ever at 5 shillings an acre. How many acres had you in Ireland? Twenty acree for which you paid £2 per acre annually. Think on this for a moment.

In a short time poor men will not have the opportunity of becoming proprietors of the soil in this country, at least not within easy reach of the coast or where the climate suits Europeans. This Loreto land is within reach of everybody; if eight poor men purchase half a league, I will give each man separate title-deeds for his 100 squares. Now for the prospect for this small landholder.

This land will cost him say 12,500$ $\frac{m}{n}$, payable 3,125$ $\frac{m}{n}$ cash, and the $2,344 per annum for four years plus 7 per cent interest.

He can refine this land by his own work and make it worth in three years ten times its original cost.

Meanwhile he is surrounded by his countrymen and passes as pleasant a life as he would anywhere, sweetened by the knowledge that he is improving his new property, and that his children will now have a home when he is gone.

How many Irishmen are there in Buenos Aires who have given up all hope of purchasing land in the districts they now work in? Some thousands, I believe, who have now an opportunity of becoming owners of land which if they dont make equal to the very best it will be their own fault.

Your last question is a difficult one to answer.

You being the seller of the land, are you not likely to exaggerate its merits? Very likely, but to prove that I feel certain of what is stated above. I will stand by the following: If you or any other man can find a block of twenty square leagues of pasto fuerte land in Lincoln, 9 de Julio, Saludillo, 25 de Mayo, Bolivar, or any of the Provincial Sections lately sold, as good as twenty leagues of Loreto and Venado Tuerto, I will give him a league of land for nothing. The tribunal to consist of three estancieros whose expenses will be paid by you, if you are wrong. If not I pay them, besides giving you the league of land. The points to be decided on are soil, grasses, position.

I say nothing about the South pasto fuerte lands, because South men, as a rule, don't wish to have their camps compared with the North or West. Besides it would take some years to decide and there the jury would have to emigrate

When I hear from you again, Mick, I'll drop you a few lines more.

Your friend

EDITOR'S TABLE

Lots of people took tram and train to the Boca yesterday to have a look at the Nyanza, which lies right in front of the Resguardo near the Villarino. Everybody says that, if the Captain and agents of the Italia deserve a present of ten square leagues of land, the ditto and ditto of the Nyanza should at least get nine leagues each, and we cordially agree with this view. General Osborne and Mr C Bowers were booked to sail in the Nyanza, but, as she carried Kerosene, President Arthur thought their lives of too much value to this country to permit them to run the risk, so they are coming in another steamer.

The awful accident on the Northern Railway was the great topic in all circles yesterday and the deepest sympathy is felt for the bereaved families. Full particulars of the accident will be found in another column. We forgot to mention therein, however, that the coachman, although he had all his teeth smashed, vanished as soon as he was pulled out of the ditch, and without waiting to consult a dentist. The engine driver did likewise, both being afraid of arrest.

We have to thank the courteous Secretary of the National Credit Office, Mr Daniel E. Junge, for sending us yesterday 100 copies of the recent drawing of Treasury Bonds, which ye hold at the service of those interested here or in Europe.

Our Havas cablegram came late again on Monday for publication yesterday, and we must ask the Agency to let us have the news earlier. M. Jules Ferry has patched up a Cabinet, but we suppose it won't live longer than its too numerous predecessors.

The row about the stench from the Riachuelo is rising to fever heat. The people down there won't stand it any longer, and the distillery—the cause of the trouble—should be shut up summarily. If an epidemic break out in Barracas, that High Life distillery will be the main cause of it.

Mr Vicente Quesada, Special Envoy to Brazil, gave a farewell banquet last night, at his private residence, to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, several members of the Diplomatic Corps, and other distinguished guests. If Mr. Q. comes back with a 'peace with honour' Treaty in his pocket, and settles the Misiones Question, he will deserve to be made the next President of the Republic.

Mr Nettleship's wooden pavement in Calle Suipacha looks a complete success. One side of the square (between Piedad and Cangallo) is now finished, and the tram cars glide over it in the smoothest manner.

We are very sorry to hear that the rumour of two British subjects having been murdered near San Nicolas is true. We have no details as yet.

Dr Rawson declares small-pox to be increasing in the city in a very alarming way, and the Lord Mayor has issued a circular to the city Jueces de Paz, asking them to strain every nerve to induce their parishioners to get vaccinated. Our main anxiety is for our subscribers. Whoever shrinks from getting vaccinated may live to repent it, or, more probably, may die to repent it.

Civil war has broken out in Peru. The Chilians support Iglesias, and it is hard to say what the end will be. Rumours of intervention by the United States are again current.

Everybody is talking of the Hallidie Tramway and hoping for its adoption in this city, to get rid of clattering, stumbling and foul-smelling horses, foul-mouthed "cocheros" and all the other inconveniences of tram travelling in these regions. We have another interesting Hallidie chapter in our 'carterá.' The new system is being laid down on Highgate Hill, London, and the Times praises it greatly. Down with the horses, say we.

The Brazilian Legation informs us that the Imperial Government has decided to supplement the Congress on Education, to be held in Rio on June 1st, with a Pedagogic Exhibition, to comprise plans of model schools, with furniture for same; class materials for primary schools and books for same; official publications about Primary Instruction, etc., etc. The European and American nations are invited to join this Tournament of Teaching, and the Imperial Legation here will supply every information to those interested in the matter.

One most important step in the favourable solution of the Chubut difficulty has been taken in the appointment of Miss Anna E. Jones as directress of the National School in the colony. Miss Jones, being a Welsh lady, and having been "profesora" in the Normal School of Catamarca for 4 years, combines the singular qualifications necessary for the post. This is another of Mr. L. Jones's inspirations. We hope soon to have to report further solutions in the same direction.

Messrs Schwartz & Co., have put up a powerful electric light over the chimney of their great foundry. A 24-horse power engine keeps up the electric current and gives the most powerful light ever seen south of the Line. At the distance of a mile the people on the Barracas Road can read the evening papers as if by daylight. Messrs Schwartz have also put up a gong, which when set going beats the old Standard gong, and makes a noise similar to that of 24,000 braying asses. Captains in the Outer Roads can hear the gong easily, but people in the vicinity of the Casa Amarilla have to put cotton in their ears.

We received two or three more slaps at Sarmiento yesterday for publication, but wrote "declined with thanks" on them all, as we fancy the public are quite tired of the old gentleman and anxious to take the advice of our American Cousins, and let him R.I.P.

General Villegas telegraphs to the War Office that he has sent a detachment to beat Shah Hueque, the most powerful of the Chiefs near the Cordilleras.

THE DANGERS OF KEROSENE.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 20, 1883.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Dear Sir,

Scarcely a week passes by without the newspapers reporting some cases of destruction of life, limb, or property, through accidents caused by kerosene explosions.

Permit me to suggest to you, as an active and influential member of the Municipal Commission, the urgent necessity which exists of a due inspection of the burning oil sold in the market.

In England, through the action of a special law, "The Petroleum Act," all persons selling petroleum or paraffin oils of too volatile a nature are subject to a severe penalty. The quality of the oil can readily be tested by what is called flashing, in a simple apparatus, which anyone can use. I think the matter should be brought before the Municipal authorities, and no one more fitting than yourself for the purpose.

I am, dear Sir,

Yours faithfully,

John H. Kyle.

KRAO.

A strange, hairy little creature is now being exhibited at the Royal Aquarium, Westminster, by Mr. Farini, as "the missing link." Krao is not in the ordinary acceptation of the work a monster, but a very bright-looking, intelligent girl of about seven years of age. She was caught, according to the account given of her by Mr. Farini, in the forest near Laos, and brought to England by Mr. Carl Bock, a Norwegian, who, since the expedition described by him in "The Head Hunters of Borneo," has been exploring Siam and the wilder states to the north-east. Hearing in various quarters of the existence of a race of hairy-tailed men, similar in appearance to a family kept at the Court of Mandalay, he offered a reward for the capture of a specimen. A man was caught, and with him the child now exhibited, and woman of similar appearance then allowed herself to be taken. When the little one attempted to wander, the parents recalled her with a plaintive cry, "Kra-o," and the call has been adopted as her name. The father died at Laos of cholera and the King refused to let the mother go, but Mr. Bock succeeded in getting the child to

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral

Well-known all over the world for the prompt cure of the following diseases:

Coughs, Colds, Catarrhs, Inflammation of the Lungs, Bronchitis and Incipient Consumption, and also for the relief of those suffering from Chronic Consumption even in its Most Advanced Stages.

In the various affections of the Throat and Lungs, its employment in the first stage is always sure to arrest the disease, which makes Dr. AYER'S Cherry Pectoral a most desirable medicine to have always at hand. Those who have used this medicine knowing well its efficacy, declare they are never without it at home and never fail to recommend it to their friends suffering from any of the above diseases.

Medical men who know well the formula by which it is compounded, and the beneficial effects from its employment, never fail to prescribe Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It is also frequently recommended by those of the Clergy who have used it. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is also remarkable in its Sanatory effects, arresting as it is sure to do, the ravages of epidemic affections of the Throat and Lungs, thus making it the most efficacious medicine which can be employed.

The Rev. Mr. Smith
Testimonial Fund.

At the General Meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Buenos Ayres, held on the 31st January, 1883, attention was called to the near approach of the time when the Rev. James Smith's official connection with the Church and people of Buenos Ayres would cease. The propriety of some manifestation being made by the Community on this occasion, to mark its appreciation of a life's work, having been mooted and unanimously recognised, it was resolved that such manifestation should assume the form of a pecuniary gift to the Rev. Gentleman, and a Committee was at the same time nominated with the view of carrying such resolution into effect.

In pursuance of this resolution, the Committee beg to inform the Community who sympathise with them in the matter, that Subscription Lists for signature will be found at the undermentioned places.

Other Lists will be forwarded to some of the outlying districts of Buenos Ayres and the Oriental Republic. Members residing at a distance, desirous of taking part in this manifestation, and who may not have access to any of these List-sheets, can obtain them upon application to the Honorary Secretary, David Methven jun., Calle Reconquista 89, who will also be ready to receive any particular subscription towards the same object up to March 15th, prox.

February 21st, 1883

Cedulas E 84⅛
National Bank Shares.... 106½

The great topic of the market is the approaching meeting of the shareholders of the National Bank, and the impending election of new Directors on the Board of management. For the last two months very many strings have been set to work in order to influence the votes of the shareholders, and it was a well-known fact last month that if the meeting had been held on the day fixed at the end of January, the outgoing Directors would have been re-elected. Since then potent influences have changed the situation, and a majority of votes now appears to incline towards another direction. The market would very naturally like to see its own men in and the Bolsa, there is no denying the fact, potronizes its candidates, who are well-known to all, Messrs. J. B. Salas and Alejandro Ocampo; as suplentes Messrs. A. Sastre and D. Funes are talked of. These gentlemen rely on many votes, and the shareholders in general favor their nomination. Very much importance is very naturally attached to the nomination of the new Directors, and there is a general wish to see representative and well-known parties figure on the Board, as their presence will be a further guarantee of able management and of a prosperous development of the Bank. No one in the market doubts the great future of the Bank, and the great care of the Government and of the Board should be to foster the public confidence; the operations of the establishment have reached unprecedented proportions, and the working of January and February is known to have surpassed all previous expectations.

Large fly-sheets, containing 34 columns of figures much resembling the list of prizes of one of our local lotteries were profusely scattered in the hall this morning. The five thousand eight hundred and fifty five bonds of the Treasury Bill Loan, lately drawn, filled two large sheets, and the array of figures looked formidable. The figures are so numerous that we can find no space for them in these columns, but several thousand copies of the numbers drawn will be forwarded to London. In connection with the Treasury Bill drawing, Mr. Romero, our talented Minister of Finance, has published his note to Messrs. Morton, Rose & Co., thanking them for their disinterested efforts to maintain the credit of this country in London. The note is an important document, inasmuch as the Government does not forget good services done to the country abroad.

The share market opened this morning with a very undecided feeling, which quickly turned into a drooping tendency. The stock ruled more active than usual, and over 3,000 shares were sold during official hours. Sales for cash amounted to 430 shares; rates opened at 106½, fell to 106 and closed at 106½. Speculation for the end of the month embraced 1,300 shares; prices opened at 106½, fell to 105½ and closed at 105⅝; the drop in prices was gradual, operations fluctuating between 105⅝ and 106. Close on 1,000 shares were sold for the end of next month ex dividend at 102¾ and 102; 650 shares were sold cum dividend at rates ranging between 107⅛ and 106⅜. The stock at the close of official hours shewed a general drop all along the line, and operations closed on a weak market. Operators do not believe in any serious fall, owing to the payment of the dividend at the end of the month. Some believe in a heavy "descubierto" for the end of the month, but little importance is being attached to same. The healthiest feature in the market is the presence of a few outsiders who continue buying small lots. Speculation for the end of next month is raising its head and over 1,400 shares were sold to-day during official hours for that date.

The Cedula market look firmer; there are sellers of Series E for cash at 85, cupon corriente. Operations to-day ruled excessively dull. Only 3,000 changed hands for cash at 84⅜; $f. 20,000 were sold for the end of the month at 84⅛ and 85, whilst 35,000 were sold for the end of March at 85½-⅝. The market closed with a firm feeling, but operations are very limited.

Exchange rules rather active. Fair amounts were done to-day in sterling at 49⅜.

The gold market rules dull, no operations were reported to-day.

The news from the colonies is that many colonists intend leaving Santa Fe with money in both pockets in search of fresh lands. Land on many colonies is completely exhausted. There are colonists now in Buenos Aires with $50,000 to $80,000 looking out for land for agricultural purposes. They have been so successful in wheat, maize and linseed, that they are unwilling to attempt sheepfarming or cattle-grazing.

The late fire in the Calle Europa has led to a roaring business in all Fire Insurance Offices. There is no better advertisement for Insurance Companies than a gigantic conflagration.

One hundred and nineteen square leagues of land in Mendoza are being offered for sale in this market at the rate of $f.1,000 per league. No offers have been made up to the present.

A large delivery of grapes in Quilmes is talked of; one party delivered this morning 100 arr., and will continue doing so till the end of the week. All this grape is eagerly brought up by Italians, who make capital wine and sell it with good profits in the market.

The fine Allan steamer Hanoverian arrived in Havre yesterday; she made the voyage from Montevideo in 25 days.

The beautiful iron clipper, four-masted ship Vanduard left to-day in ballast for Rangoon, where she will load a full cargo of rice for England.

The iron clipper West-Lothian is discharging a large cargo of railway material for the Great Southern Railway Co.; also the fine ship Keloinside.

The Grecian has engaged 3,000 bales wool for Havre at 25 francs and 10 o/o; also 500 tons of linseed and wheat.

Freights continue firm and plenty of cargo offering for shipment. The export market rules active, and cereals are increasing the bulk of business.

The sales at the ring were as follows:—

Cedulas—
For cash E 3,000 at 84⅜
For Feb. 28th E 20,000 at 85-84⅞
For March 31st E 35,000 at 85½-⅜
Sales, 58,000

National Bank Shares—
For cash 430 at 106½-106-½
For Feb. 28th 1,300 at 106½-⅜-½-105⅝-106 to 105⅝-½
For March 31st 800 102⅜-102 ex div.
Do 650 at 107½-½-106⅜ con div.
Sales, 3,180

The Anna Walsh has been chartered to load bones in the Boca for New York at reserved rates.

Although the demand for sailing vessels to load salted hides and tallow is not great, for the moment rates rule firm, owing to the scarcity of small vessels.

The popular and active Nyanza broker Mr. Emil Schröder sold to-day:—

200 barrels of resin at $15 % per @
200 boxes of turpentine at $22 % per gallon.

These articles are from the British steamer Nyanza; she has brought 3,000 tons of cargo.

There is a visible lull in the saladero business. The faena in this Province proceeds very slowly, and little is done on the other side of the river. A few saladeros are working in Entre Rios, but the killing is very reduced. Although this has been an unexampled season for novillos in this Province, there are few fat animals, owing to the drought.

Some Montevidean exchange was done to-day at ¾ o/o.

There are buyers in the market of Central Argentine Railway, Buenos Aires Gas, and Transandine Telegraph Shares.

800 @ wool at $87 %
900 @ wool at 85
400 @ lambs' wool at 75

There is no change in the wool markets. Arrivals continue the same, but operations are limited. Some good wools fetched $98% in the South Market this morning.

The sales at afterhours were:—

Cedulas—
For cash E sellers at 85
National Bank Shares—
For Feb. 28th 300 at 105⅛, seller.

At the Plaza Once de Setiembre the following business done:—

El Jueves 15 de Marzo
A las 2 p.m.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y sin limitacion de ninguna clase, los mas afamados campos de la Provincia de Santa Fe conocidos por Loreto distantes unicamente 25 leguas de Pergamino, 6 de la colonia Iriondo, 10 de la colonia Alvear (La Teodolina) 13 de la Estacion Tortugas del Ferro Carril Central Argentino, 16 de la Cañada de Gomez, Estacion del mismo Ferro Carril y entre el Ferro Carril de Clark, el proyectado ramal del F. C. del O. desde el Pergamino al Rio 4° y el Oeste Santafesino. Estos campos lindan con los famosos y conocidos del Venado Tuerto y con estancias, como la de los Sres Ostendorp y Ca., Diego Alvear, heredero de Armstrong y otros.

Los campos que acaba de vender el Gobierno de la Provincia a 400,000$ estan mas distantes de la Capital que estos que ofrecemos en venta.

Ademas con la rapidez que se esten construyendo los Ferro Carriles y ramales en la Republica demuestran claramente que en un corto tiempo la poblacion va a estenderse extraordinariamente y entonces toda la propiedad rural tiene que triplicar en valor, de manera que cuando llegue a vencerse el ultimo plazo el comprador se encontrara con una propiedad valiosa.

La calidad del campo se garante igual al Venado Tuerto por lo tanto creemos inutil entrar en mayores descripciones sobre el terreno, sus gastos etc, ademas la persona que quiera ver y examinarlos puede toma la Galera que va del Pergamino al Hinojo ocurriendo por la pasage gratis al Sr D. Eduardo Casey Reconquista num. 80.

El campo sera dividido en lotes de 1|2 (media) legua teniendo el comprador el derecho de tomar cuatro leguas por el mismo precio.

Todos los lotes seran vendidos sin reserva de ninguna clase al mas alto postor y el pago se hara una cuarta parte al contado y el resto en cuatro anualidades con el 7 o|o de interes. Los planos de estos campos podran obtenerse del 20 del corriente Febrero en adelante ocurriendo a casa del Sr D. Eduardo Casey num. 80, o a nuestra casa Alsina 78.

Estos campos forman parte de la gran Estancia que pertenecio al finado General Don Prudencio Ortiz de Rosas y eran reputados como la flor de los campos del Azul, y el lote que ofrecemos lo mejor, pues es cruzado por el arroyo la Corina y alli existe la poblacion del mismo nombre. En prueba de ello es que este campo esta arrendado desde hace 5 años por 80,000$ al año venciendo al contrato el 1 de Abril del corriente año y el actual arrendatario estamos seguros no lo dejara por pesos 100,000.

A mas del arroyo la Corina que atraviesa el campo, tiene dos lagunas mas.

Los pastos en su mayor parte son tiernos y superiores pues estan poblados estos campos hace mas de 35 años.

La venta se hara en uno o dos lotes con la infima base de $500,000 legua cuadrada precio sumamente bajo, pues campos iguales acaban de venderse en Ayacucho por nosotros mismos a $1,200,000 legua.

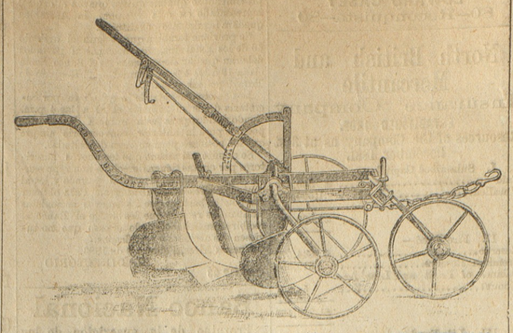
"PLOUGHS"



"PLOUGHS" "PLOUGHS"
Messrs M. Forrester & Co.

Beg to announce to the Public that they have lately introduced into this country with great success the

Celebrated Two and Three Furrow Ploughs
OF
ENGLAND

These WROUGHT IRON PLOUGHS fitted with breasts and shares of steel, have been extensively used in the Provinces and are destined to supersede the light and flimsy wood implements made by the Americans.

By means of a simple hand lever the onward movement of the animals raises the plough out of work at the ends, thus saving the driver the usual hard lifting connected with ploughing.

The two Furrow Plough is drawn by a pair of bullocks, thus doing double the work of a single plough and still with only one man.

These "Multiple" Ploughs are now almost universally employed in Australia and South Africa, and in recommending these implements Messrs. Forrester & Co feel confident that they are well adapted to the requirements of the Plate.

In order to procure these Ploughs orders should be sent in at once, or disappointment may be incurred.
